It was with difficulty that anything of their history could be learned. The old man's mind is too feeble to remember much, and the woman is too densely imprant to obtain any impression strong enough to recall a week later.

They were sitting on a bench in the hospital office gazing blankly at the floor when an "Evening World" reporter saw them this morning. The old man was moaning as though in pain. So the woman was first approached, and as they had been booked as Germans she was first asked:

Mrs. Wendroff said she was married nine months ago, and had always lived happily with her husband until very recently. On their marriage she invested what money she had in his business, which has been fairly successful. Yesterday morning, after a tiff over a trifling matter, Wendroff packed up his clothes, and taking $20 from the cash drawer in the store, went out.

This was two hours after the time set by Miss Neill's employer for her to return home, and the young woman knew she would be locked out. Brown suggested that Miss Neill go to a hotel, while he went home. This she would not consent to, so it was decided to go to the police station and get an officer to take them to a minister.

Several dohinies were visited, but they were all too sleepy to get up. Finally the Rev. Alexander Lewis, of 142 Rodney street, was found, and he quickly made the couple husband and wife. Both then went to the groom's home.

The admission was only 15 cents for "grown-uppers" and 10 cents for children, but $80.05 was taken in even at these prices, and little Totsey Duryes, who is just four years old, handed in an extra $5 to help swell the receipts—making in all $74.05.

To the children whose names appear on the programme below must all credit be given for the entertainment, but they were ably assisted by Mrs. L. A. Stahl and Miss Alice Lazarus, who have devoted time and energy to making the affair a complete success.

After the opening chorus, Fred Klusmann, thirteen years old, gave a charming plano solo, and he was followed by Allie Stahl, a bright little girl of nine years, in the recitation of James Whitcomb Riley's "Goblins" and "I'm Something of a Sporting Man," the latter being given in boy's clothes and accompanied by a jig. Later on the same little girl appeared in a skirt dance and a jockey dance.

Then came a piano solo by Martha Klusmann, twelve years old, followed by a violin duet by Hannah Joseph, eleven years old, and N. Saunders, ten years old. They played the "Miserere" from "Il Trovatore" and were encored.

Beatrice Rondel told about "A Puzzled Dutchinan" and made every one laugh, and Aggle Mooney, eleven years old, who, bless her heart! had donated the hall, gave a beautiful plano solo. Harry Leonard, who appeared as a little burnt-cork minstrel, was encored so many times that he finally had to give it up, and Ray Mullaly, nine years old, just sang herself into the heart-love of every-body there. Little Ray has a voice like a thrush, and she was made to sing until she was too tired to sing any more. Then there was a farce, and it was so funny and well acted that every one was sorry when it came to an end. Ray Mullaly led the chorus in singing "The Star-Spangled Banner." and then every-body went home, feeling that they had had a splendid time and had helped ever so many poor sick babies as well. When he was taking his bath an investigation of his house showed that he had bored holes on three sides of the place with a 3-8 inch auger, which was found in a pocket of his clothing.

When the "peeper" went to dress he was arrested, and confessed that he had for several days been perforating the partitions of bath-houses.

Founder Bradley, after giving the culprit a lecture, ordered his release. The man was good looking and about twenty-seven years old. He was well dressed.
